-S. Paul Jenkins, who lived near Westminster, was found dead in bed Tuesday morning. Mr. Jenkins was one of the most prominent citizens of this section and the announcement of his death/will be received with deep regret by people all over Oconce. Mr. Jenkins lived just out of Westminster, on the Walhalla and Westminster road. He is survived by his wife and several children. We have no information as to whether Mr. Jenkins had been ailing, but it is presumed by those who brought first reports of his death that he was in his usual health when he retired on Monday night. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of hosts of personal friends in their sorrow.

-There are many in Oconce who will regret to learn of the painful ac-cident that happened to M. A. Moss, of Salem, last week. On Wednesdy morning lst, while Mr. Moss was walking about his farm looking after various matters pertaining to future farm operations, be stumbled and fell and a gun which he was carrying at the time was discharged, the load of shot piercing his left hand, shattering the member so badly that it had to be amputated. Mr. Moss was brought to Walhalla as quickly as possible and physicians amputated the hand at once. Mr. Moss carried his gun with him on his tour of inspection on the farm with the idea that he might see some game on his rounds. At last accounts he was doing nicely, with no indications of fur-ther trouble from his accident.

—The citizens of Midway will hold an election on Tuesday of next week, Dec. 19th, for the purpose of deciding the question of coming into Wal-halla as "part and parcel of the municipality. Petitons recently were circulated asking that an election be held, and the date given above has been set for the holding of the elec-tion. In case the election is carried in favor of Midway coming into the incorporate limits of Walhalla, the extension will be in an easterly digection only, serving to lengthen the town, but not changing the breadth. It is generally conceded that Midway will be added to Walhlla, the sentiment generally, it is said, being favorable to annexation.
